

Voice Gear Cordless Voice Mate

Are you tired of having to constantly sit by your computer while talking on the Internet? Introducing a revolutionary way to unwire yourself – Cordless Voice Mate. Using the phone, you can now make and receive VoIP calls wirelessly from up to 50 meters away. The phone is fully compatible with both Windows and Apple platforms including a variety of VoIP clients including Skype, Yahoo Messenger, Windows Live Messenger, and many others.

Cordless Voice Mate features amazing new design and combines it with a strong feature set and great usability. By simply picking up the wireless handset, you can access and call any of your Skype contacts or dial any phone number.

Cordless Voice Mate is great for home and office use. The base station features a built-in high quality speakerphone, ideal for making conference calls. The handset has large graphic LCD with blue color backlight, which allows you to make and receive calls without the limitation of a USB cable, just like using a mobile phone.
